Introduction / Purpose of the Business Guide

The City of Brockton and the Brockton 21ST Century Corporation are pleased to offer this Guide as a basis for understanding what is required of a business opening or relocating in Brockton. This is a basic overview; there may be other permits, licenses and approvals that have not been included in this Guide. The target audience for this Guide is Brockton's small business community, which is largely located on Main Street or one of the neighborhood business districts. Because small businesses with just a few employees, do not typically have the resources to retain legal counsel this Guide can serve as a "road map" to navigate the sometimes confusing process of permitting and licensing.

The basic rule of thumb is that all construction, renovation or development projects require an interaction with the City of Brockton and most will require permit(s). Licenses and permits are required in Brockton because the City must complete technical and regulatory reviews to ensure the health and safety of its citizens.

Generally the greater the scale of the proposed project the more involvement the City will have and in most cases requires the greater number of permits. The most effective way to avoid surprises and problems is for the applicant, whether business owner, developer, builder and/or property owner (including homeowners) or tenant, to be familiar with the process and the requirements of the City of Brockton.

A variety of permits, licenses and or registrations may be required. This Guide is intended to answer the questions a prospective new or expanding business may have. For further clarification about the requirements please contact the appropriate Department. As you move forward, always remember that the City staff is available and more than happy to assist you. Our goal is to provide a user-friendly guide that enables small business applicants to better understand the existing process in Brockton and to do it right from the start and saving time and money.

This Business Guide is also available on-line at either of the below:

A business certificate is the public record of the name and address of the owner(s) of a business, and is commonly referred to by the name “DBA” (“doing business as”) or “Sole Proprietorship”. The purpose of the business certificate is primarily for consumer protection and public information. Lenders will typically request a copy of your business certificate.

Who must file a Business Certificate?

Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 110, §5 states that any person conducting business in the Commonwealth under any title other than the real name of the person conducting the business, whether individually or as a partnership, shall file (a certificate) in the office of the clerk of every city or town where an office of any such person or partnership may be situated.

Under Chapter 110, §6 a business certificate is not required if a corporation is doing business in its true corporate name, or if a partnership is doing business under any title which includes the true surname of any partner. Certain other associations and partnerships may also be exempt.

Businesses that file with the Secretary of State’s Office do not need to file in the town.

How do I file or renew a Business Certificate?

Business certificates can be obtained at the City Clerk’s office. This can be obtained provided that the owner filing for the business certificate is proven to be a resident at that address and meets the requirements for a home business. After obtaining the Home Occupancy Approval letter from the Building Department, you can then obtain a business certificate at the Office of the City Clerk after presenting your letter. The fee for a business certificate is $145.00 and is valid for four years. Renewal fee is also $145.00.

What should I do if I discontinue or withdraw from the business or move to another location?

If you are no longer in business or you move out of the City, you should file a withdrawal from business form obtained at the office of the City Clerk. The fee for withdrawing from a business is $50.00. This should be done as soon as possible as personal property taxes on your business cannot be adjusted until the Assessor’s receive your withdrawal form. It is effective from the date that you file this form not the date you ended your business. You should file before the date of expiration.

What is the penalty for failing to file a business certificate?

The requirement to file a business certificate is a State Law (MGL Chapter 110, §5). Failure to do so is punishable by a fine of up to $300.00 per month of violation.

Does the filing of a Business Certificate protect me from others using the same name?

No. The protection of a trademark (word, name, symbol or device) in Massachusetts is accomplished through the Secretary of State’s Office. Other information about starting a business in Massachusetts can be found on the State’s website: www.mass.gov.

What is Building Permit?

Building permits are issued to licensed contractors and property owners to allow construction work.

Who needs to get a building permit?

Building permits are required to construct, reconstruct, alter, repair, remove or demolish a building or structure. The following work does not require a building permit:

- One story detached accessory buildings used as tool or storage sheds, playhouses and similar uses, provided the floor area does not exceed 120 square feet.
- Fences six feet in height or less.
- Retaining walls which retain less than four feet of unbalanced fill.
- Ordinary repairs (any maintenance which does not affect the structure, egress, fire protection systems, fire ratings, energy conservation provisions, plumbing, sanitary, gas, electrical or other utilities).
- Greenhouses covered exclusively with plastic film intended for agricultural uses.
- Painting, papering, tiling, carpeting, cabinets, counter tops and similar finish work.
- Swings and other playground equipment.

Where do I get a Building Permit?

The Building Commissioner issues building permits. Other required approvals for the work, such as special permit approval and Fire Department approval, must be obtained before a building permit will be issued. Plumbing permits must be applied for by a licensed plumber; electrical permits must be applied for by a licensed electrician.

How do I get a Building Permit?

1. Application: You will need to submit a Building Permit application to the Building Department. The fee is calculated at that time based on the value of construction.

2. Steps: After submittal of the Application and Plans, a Building Permit must be issued to begin construction. Permits are usually issued within 5-7 business days. Elements of construction such as foundation, plumbing and electrical will be permitted separately under certain conditions. Periodic inspections must be scheduled as elements of the project are completed. A final inspection and review is necessary for a Certificate of Occupancy.

3. Certificate of Occupancy: After your building permit work is completed (Building Permit Card must be signed), the project will receive a Certificate of Occupancy from the Building Department, which is required in order to occupy the building.

Note: Permits become invalid if work does not start within 180 days of the permit being issued or if work is suspended for 180 days after starting. The Building Commissioner may grant extensions.

What is Site Plan Review?

Site Plan Review is a comprehensive review of proposed projects that may have significant impacts on traffic, parking, municipal and public services and utilities, environmental quality, community economics, and community values.

Who needs to go through Site Plan Review?

Site Plan Review is required for:

- All new commercial, industrial, or non-residential development or conversion of a commercial or industrial building to or from a commercial or industrial use.
- Additions to commercial, industrial or non-residential buildings of 500 square feet of gross building area.
- All multi-family development over six (6) units.
- Any development on an unconstructed or unimproved way or needing utility extensions.

Who conducts Site Plan Review?

The Planning Board conducts all Site Plan Reviews and is the permit granting authority.

How do I get a Site Plan approval?

The site plan review process typically includes the following steps:

- 1. Application: You will need to submit your application, site plans, the fee and required documentation (see Application Procedures document).
- 2. Tech Review: The City will conduct a technical review meeting for each project requiring Site Plan Review where City Departments will provide comment or pose questions.
- 3. Public Hearing: Upon completion of the Tech Review, the amended plans and required documentation are presented to the Planning Board before a Public Hearing is scheduled. At the Hearing you will have an opportunity to describe your project; the Board will also take testimony from the public and abutters. The Planning Board will approve or deny your site plan within 90 days of closing the meeting.

Note: Planning Board approval of a Site Plan expires if substantial work on the project is not started within two years of approval.

Note: The City of is comprised of many different zones i.e. residential, commercial, industrial etc. In each zone there are Special Permitted Uses that require zoning board approval such as bar rooms and restaurants.

Contact the Building Department @ (508)-580-7150 or visit the office weekdays between 8:30am – 4:30pm for information about Special Permitted Uses in any zone.

What is a Variance?

A variance is a waiver of certain zoning requirements, typically dimensional standards. According to MGL Chapter 40 Subsection 10 “Except where local ordinances or by-laws shall expressly permit variances for use, no variance may authorize a use or activity not otherwise permitted in the district in which the land or structure is located.”

Who needs to get a Variance?

Typically, variances are sought when a property owner or developer wants to construct, expand or change a building, but their property or building does not meet all the dimensional requirements in the Zoning Bylaw. Variances are specifically required if you want to reconstruct, extend or structurally change a nonconforming building – one that does not conform to the Zoning Bylaw – if the change either increases an existing nonconformity or creates a new one.

Massachusetts General Law Chapter 40A Sec. 10 requires that one of the following three circumstances be unique to the property before granting a variance;

- Soil conditions: Example - The applicant states “the unique characteristics of the grade of the soil make the property economically undevelopable as a residential site.”
- Shape: Example – Example- The applicant states “the subject property is bifurcated by a Residential and Commercial zone that travels down Coolidge Ave., an un-built private way.”
- Topography: The applicant states “there is a significant grade slope to the rear of the property that impacts its development.”

Who approves Variances?

The Zoning Board of Appeals reviews and approves petitions for variances.

How do I get a Variance?

There are several steps to getting a variance from the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA). Typically, the process includes the following steps.

1. Consultation: You are encouraged to consult with the Building Department, which can help you complete your application.
2. Application: You will need to submit 7 copies of your application packet to the City Clerk, along with the fee. The packet includes a petition statement, certified plot plan, pictures of existing conditions, renderings of your proposed conditions and a letter of authority from the landlord or property owner. You must also submit one copy of an application for the abutters list and a Brockton Enterprise advertising form. If your application packet is not complete or contains errors, it will be returned to you. Go to the Building Department for information about applications to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

- 3. Public Hearing: The ZBA will hold a public hearing within 65 days of your application being submitted. You should attend this hearing and expect to explain your application. Within 100 days of filing, the ZBA will either approve or deny your request. The decision must be approved by the ZBA attorney, and then a copy will be sent to you.
- 4. Appeal: You and others have 20 days to appeal the ZBA's decision after filing. If the 20-day time passes without an appeal, you will receive a copy of the minutes from the Building Department. If no appeal has been made the Building Department will mail to the petitioner a Notice of variance that needs to be recorded at the Plymouth County Registry of Deeds. A copy of the recorded decision and the receipt from the Registry recording must be provided to the Building Department prior to permits being issued. .

Note: Variances lapse if they are not exercised within one year. Extensions can be granted.

Note: The City of is comprised of many different zones i.e. residential, commercial, industrial etc. In each zone there are Special Permitted Uses that require zoning board approval such as bar rooms and restaurants.

Contact the Building Department @ (508)-580-7150 or visit the office weekdays between 8:30am – 4:30pm for information about Special Permitted Uses in any zone.

The Assessor's Data Base is a collection of all the Property Record Cards in the City of Brockton. The records include the property's address, assessor's map/route/plot number, owner of record, State property use classification, site area, building information, sales information, and assessment.

The information in the data base is based on the Assessor's field observations and historical data from various sources.

It should be noted that the information in the data base regarding zoning, number of units and legal use are for property valuation purposes only. When a property is inspected the Assessor does not determine the legal use of the property being assessed and values what exist on the site. The Property Record Card cannot be used to determine the zoning district, status or legal use.

Note: Questions about a property's zoning, legal use, or conforming status, should be directed to the Building Department and a determination letter should be requested.
