

If you are interested in helping, please call Mark Mulready at (617)-842-2386. Leave a message and I will get back to you shortly.

Brockton's AARP Tax-Aides are looking for a few good men and women.

The AARP Foundation sponsors volunteers to do taxes for low and middle income tax payers. We are looking for volunteers to help us prepare for our next season of tax preparation.

We need people who are comfortable dealing with people and working with computers. AARP offers extensive training so that familiarity with the software used is not necessary. Through the training, you will learn how to use the software and prepare for IRS Certification.

If you are interested in helping out, you can fill out the application form on line at

If you want more information on the program, I suggest you look at https://www.aarp.org/money/taxes/info-2006/volunteer_aarp_tax_aide.html

If you want more information on supporting Brockton and surrounding communities, please call and leave me a message at the number above.

Thanks. Mark Mulready
